From the Desk of Minister-of-State

I am happy to learn that the Labour department, Govt. of West Bengal has launched a website of its own. This Department is committed towards betterment of life and ensuring economic and social security for the workers in the unorganized sectors and their families. Towards this goal the Labour Department has been working tirelessly for implementation of different Social Security Schemes under Govt. of West Bengal.

This website, along with other Web Portals of the Directorates under Labour department, will be of immense help to the workers to save time and energy to get the benefits of our different Social Security schemes. It will also be a reservoir of information regarding the activities, performance and achievements of Labour Department, Govt. of West Bengal.

I wish that, through regular up- dation, this website will continue to serve the purpose of ease of getting access to this department and its benefits.

I also extend my warm greetings and felicitation to all members of the IT Team of this Department for successful launch and maintenance of this Website.
