Workman is present with his ld. Advocate.

Ld. Advocate for the company is also present.

The workman is examined on dock touching the joint agreement and the joint petition filed by the parties. Ld. Advocate for both sides submit that the dispute between the parties have been amicably settled and the workman has accepted the amount paid by the company.

Perused the case record.

Considered the nature of the case, submission of both sides and the statement of the workman on dock it appears that the workman has voluntarily entered into an agreement with the company and due to settlement of the dispute between them amicably the workman is long longer interested to proceed with the case.

In view of the facts and circumstances it appears that there no longer exists any industrial dispute between the parties and as such the instant application under Section 2A(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 is disposed of on the footings that there no longer exists any industrial dispute between the parties.

The agreement entered into by the parties be made part of the Award.
